Civil Action No. _____

(Jury Trial Demanded)

JUDGE McMAHON

COMPLAINT

Plaintiff, TheFlyonthewall.com, Inc. ("Plaintiff" or "TheFly"), by and through its attorneys, Ostrager Chong Flaherty & Broitman P.C., for its complaint against defendant, TRADE THE NEWS, INC. ("Defendant" or "TTN"), alleges, upon knowledge as to itself and otherwise upon information and belief, as follows:

NATURE OF THE ACTION

1. This lawsuit arises out of the systematic misappropriation and copyright infringement of TheFly's financial news reports and market analysis (collectively, "newsfeed") by Defendant's online service, "tradethenews.com." TTN systematically accesses TheFly's newsfeed and, free riding on TheFly's significant news gathering and market research efforts, rushes to market with the intent and effect of undermining TheFly's investment in providing its subscribers with newsfeed containing exclusive and time-sensitive financial news and market analysis. These acts of misappropriation and copyright infringement warrant both injunctive relief and damages.

2. TheFly's newsfeed, which is pirated by TTN, constitutes a fundamental and competitively significant component of TheFly's business. TheFly's newsfeed is provided only to its subscribers and other authorized recipients. TheFly's newsfeed informs clients as to whether and how to utilize TheFly's services: the more cogent and timely the news and market analysis, the greater its value to TheFly's subscribers and the greater the potential for revenues to TheFly from subscribers. Moreover, the value of the newsfeed to TheFly's subscribers is greatly enhanced by its limited dissemination, i.e., its exclusivity.

3. By misappropriating and infringing upon TheFly's newsfeed and TheFly's limited dissemination of its proprietary financial news and market analysis, TTN has caused injury to TheFly. If not permanently enjoined, TTN will continue to inflict this injury. On the other hand, if enjoined, TTN stands only to lose the illegitimate gains from its free riding on the TheFly's investment, labor, and expertise. TTN would remain free to prepare and disseminate its own financial news and market analysis. Moreover, since financial news and market analysis will still be available from TheFly and from other authorized distributors, an injunction will not result in any harm to TTN's subscribers who are not intended beneficiaries of TheFly's newsfeed.

PARTIES

4. Plaintiff, Theflyonthewall.com, Inc., is a company organized and existing under the laws of the State of New Jersey, with its principal place of business located at 428 Springfield Avenue, Unit F, Summit, New Jersey 07901.

5. Defendant, TRADE THE NEWS, INC., is a Delaware corporation having a business address at 11 Broadway, Suite. 800, New York, New York 10004.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

6. This Court has jurisdiction over this action pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1338(a) and (b) and 1367.

7. Venue is proper in this judicial district pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §1391(b) and (c), in that a substantial part of the events giving rise to the claims occurred in this district, and defendant is subject to personal jurisdiction in this district.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

8. For over six years, TheFly has operated a website, theFlyonthewall.com, providing financial news and market research to its subscribers.

9. TheFly offers its subscribers financial news information such as market analysis, news reports, analyst trading calls, events, and syndicate information.

10. In order to generate its newsfeed, TheFly invests substantial financial and human resources in obtaining financial information on public companies in various sectors of the economy and analyzing such information. TheFly's success is due in large part to the substantial investment of time and hard work by its employees, who track the latest industry rumors and report breaking news and analyst comments disseminated by Wall Street trading desks. Through these efforts, TheFly is able to offer its subscribers relevant information in a concise, timely manner.

11. The value of TheFly's newsfeed to its subscribers lies in the quality of the analysis, the timeliness with which the newsfeed is received by its subscribers and the limited dissemination of this newsfeed.

12. TheFly's newsfeed constitutes proprietary and economically valuable material that is intended to assist its subscriber's in making investment decisions.

13. The timeliness, quality and limited dissemination of TheFly's newsfeed is also a means of attracting new subscribers.

14. TTN operates a commercial website, tradethenews.com, which offers subscribers access to market analysis and real-time 24-hour headline coverage for global markets news.

15. TTN describes itself as "the financial professional's most trusted source for real-time breaking financial news and analysis." <http://www.tradethenews.com/index.asp> (accessed October 11, 2007)

16. TTN's website has a service called "News Station" which TTN's website describes as follows: "TTN The News instantly analyzes news, companies and the markets, 24hrs a day, distilling over 200,000 headlines and reporting only events that will affect your trading and portfolios. Our analysts deliver breaking market news at unrivalled speeds for financial professionals around the globe." <http://www.tradethenews.com/index.asp> (accessed October 11, 2007)

17. In essence, TTN promotes itself as a source of information and analysis and its means of accomplishing this aim is to free ride on TheFly's proprietary newsfeed.

18. TTN built its business on routinely copying TheFly's newsfeed and posting it, often within seconds of TheFly's news reports, on its website for the benefit of its paying subscribers.

19. On June 3, 2004, TheFly, through its counsel, sent an email to TTN's President, Joe Perrone, advising that TTN was misappropriating information reported by TheFly and demanding that TTN cease such activities.

20. Notwithstanding repeated demands by TheFly since, TTN has taken no action to remedy its practice of systematic appropriation of TheFly's newsfeed which continues to the present.

Copyright Infringement

21. TheFly seeks to recover for willful copyright infringement of TheFly's newsfeed for at least the period January 2007 to the present.

22. The United States Copyright Office has issued Registration No. TX 6-607-623 for TheFly's newsfeed for the period April 21, 2007 to May 20, 2007.

23. The United States Copyright Office has issued Registration No. TX 6-613-007 for TheFly's newsfeed for the period September 2, 2007 to September 30, 2007.

24. TheFly has filed copyright applications seeking registration of its newsfeed for the periods January 1, 2007 to April 20, 2007, May 21, 2007 to June 19, 2007 and July 4, 2007 to August 31, 2007.

Misappropriation

26. TTN also paraphrases TheFly's newsfeed, in some cases, remaining substantially similar to, and thereby infringing, TheFly's copyrighted newsfeed. Whether or not TTN's ongoing conduct constitutes copyright infringement, it remains tortious and injurious to TheFly. TTN continues in bad faith to violate TheFly's rights by accessing, and then posting, in summarized and slightly reworded form, the substantive core of TheFly's newsfeed, often within seconds of its limited release to TheFly's subscribers. TTN's conduct constitutes misappropriation of time-sensitive "hot news" and market analysis generated at substantial expense by TheFly for its subscribers and other authorized recipients, who rely upon the TheFly as a source of significant news and market analysis.

27. The following table shows some examples of TTN's unlawful practice of republishing the substance of TheFly's confidential, time-sensitive news and market analysis, often within seconds of its release by TheFly.

28. This routine and systematic free riding on TheFly's news gathering efforts and market research activities, impairs TheFly's incentive to provide its newsfeed as an exclusive service to its existing subscribers and to potential new subscribers.

29. To the extent that TheFly is deprived the intended exclusivity of its newsfeed as a result of its being made available by TTN, such conduct by TTN reduces the value of the newsfeed to TheFly's subscribers and inevitably will diminish the volume and dollar value of business generated for TheFly.

30. If TTN's aforementioned activities are allowed to continue, it will inevitably, among other things, adversely affect TheFly's willingness to continue to make substantial investments in generating and distributing such news and market analysis. This is precisely the harm against which the misappropriation doctrine is intended to protect.

COUNT I
COPYRIGHT INFRINGEMENT

31. TheFly repeats and realleges each and every allegation contained in paragraphs 1 through 30 hereof as if fully set forth herein.

32. TTN's unauthorized copying of the most significant portions of the registered newsfeed listed in paragraph 25 above and the sale and distribution of such unauthorized copies to its subscribers by means of TTN's website, tradethenews.com, constitutes copyright infringement in violation of the copyright owners' exclusive rights of reproduction, distribution, and display under 17 U.S.C. §§ 106(1), (3), and (5).

33. The copyright violations committed by TTN were willful.

34. TheFly is entitled to statutory damages of up to $150,000 per work infringed or actual damages and TTN's profits, as well as their costs and reasonable attorney's fees and also an injunction preventing TTN's infringing acts. 17 U.S.C. §§ 501, 502, 504, 505.

COUNT II
MISAPPROPRIATION

35. TheFly repeats and realleges each and every allegation set forth in paragraphs 1 through 34 above as if fully set forth herein.

36. TTN's systematic distribution of the substance of TheFly's newsfeed, close in time to TheFly's own dissemination of such reports constitutes misappropriation of TheFly's newsfeed.

37. Specifically, TTN's practice of obtaining and posting on its website the substance of TheFly's newsfeed is unlawful because:

- (a) TheFly generates its newsfeed at considerable cost and expense;
- (b) the value of TheFly's newsfeed is highly time-sensitive;
- (c) TTN's use of the news and analysis constitutes free riding on TheFly's efforts to generate it;
- (d) TTN's use of the news and analysis is in direct competition with the news and analysis offered by TheFly; and
- (e) the ability of other parties to free ride on TheFly's efforts will substantially threaten TheFly's incentive to continue to invest into its news-gathering and market research and analysis activities at the same level.

38. TTN's conduct diminishes the goodwill between TheFly and its subscribers, which flows from the provision of news and market analysis on an exclusive basis.

39. TTN's conduct has damaged TheFly while unjustly enriching TTN and will continue to do so unless enjoined.

40. TheFly is entitled to injunctive relief, damages, and any other remedies available under New York law.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff prays for judgment with respect to their Complaint as follows:

- A. Declaring that TTN has willfully violated 17 U.S.C. §§ 106(1), (3), and (5) by infringing the copyright rights of TheFly in news reports and awarding statutory damages of $150,000 per work infringed or actual damages as may be proved at trial;
- B. Declaring that TTN has violated the common law of New York by misappropriating TheFly's property in the commercially valuable, time-sensitive news reports and market analysis contained in the TheFly's website and awarding such damages as may be proved at trial;
- C. Granting as against TTN, its agents, servants, officers, employees, and all those acting under its control and/or on its behalf and/or in concert with them, a permanent injunction prohibiting them or any person acting in concert with them from posting on tradethenews.com or on any other website owned or controlled by TTN, or from otherwise distributing text containing the substance of all or a qualitatively significant part of any news report or market analysis created by TheFly, until such time as the commercial value derived from the time-sensitivity of the news report or market analysis has passed.
- D. Ordering that TTN be required to pay TheFly's costs, disbursements, expenses, and reasonable attorney's fees; and
- E. Ordering that TheFly shall have such other and further relief as is just and proper.

JURY DEMAND

Plaintiff demands a trial by jury on all counts so triable.
